Rose Financial Services is Honored as the 2011 Helios Apollo Award Winner in the 50 – 250 Employee Category

June 9, 2011 – Rose Financial Services \(RFS\), the Premier U.S. Based Finance and Accounting Outsourcing Firm, announces that it has been named a winner of the 2011 Helios Apollo Awards, the premier awards program for recognizing employers in the Washington metropolitan region that invest in innovative employee development initiatives.

“Congratulations to this year’s winners, who exemplify what the Apollo Awards have grown to represent over the last five years – businesses that truly believe their employees are their core, and therefore, have built corporate cultures of intention,” said Kathy Albarado, President and CEO of Helios. “This year’s winners especially stand out for promoting leadership development opportunities through philanthropic efforts in their community.”

Rose Financial Services was selected as a winner of the Apollo Awards by an independent panel for its support of employee development initiatives and its ability to communicate the overall impact of these programs. This includes the founding of RFS University, a comprehensive training program for all employees covering RFS’ policies, procedures, and software and the development of the RFS Gives Back Foundation, a vehicle to increase the level of charitable and educational activities within the DC Metro area.

“The development of our employees is a high priority at RFS,” said Wai Ling Wang, Human Resources & Recruiting Manager at Rose Financial Services. “We have worked hard to implement programs which promote the development of our employees and are truly honored that we have been recognized for our initiatives”.

In addition to celebrating the achievements of the Apollo Award, this year’s ceremony is marked by the release of the book, Building a Culture of Intention, inspired by the Apollo Awards. Rose Financial Services and President and CEO, Ted Rose, is featured in Building a Culture of Intention along with other local business leaders who have gone above and beyond to support and enable employee development.
